

When Daigger opened its doors in 1894, our lab supply offerings didn't yet include Chromatography or Cryogenics. But our customers then, just like our customers now, knew they were getting the lab supplies they needed, on time, and of the highest quality.

As the lab supply industry has expanded and evolved, Daigger has remained dedicated to its customers and committed to the highest quality. The Daigger Difference means:

- Innovative products and name brands at discount prices
- Daigger accounts so you can buy now and pay later
- Technical support on all our products
